Subject: Exam results email

Dear schools,

Tomorrow, you might receive an automated email with an Excel file attached. This is part of our new exam scheduling system, and this monthly email normally would include the previous month's results for your students. (For example, August 31 email would contain July's results.)

There's a technical issue with the system query that will prevent the results from being included in the Excel sheet, so you probably will receive a blank spreadsheet. Please disregard this email, though I also wanted to assure you it wasn't a spam or phishing email. I expect that the issue will be fixed by the end-of-September email.

This would also be a good time to make sure you have a school email on file by looking at the list of licensed schools on our website and notifying me if you'd like to have your email added. Please keep in mind that this email address will be public record, but also note that you won't get the automated email without an email address on your record. If you prefer not to provide an email address and need exam results, or if you need exam results for any period other than the previous month, please reach out to me.

Thank you!
Dennis
