Subject: [Barber-schools] Exam Portal and failing to appear for exams
Attachments: ATT00001.txt

Dear schools,

I've previously sent communications about an Exam Portal (www.barbers.nc.gov under Forms) that applicants can use to get information about upcoming exams and past exams (when the results are available). I want to urge all of you to tell graduating students about this Exam Portal.

Currently, we get students from time to time who say they didn't get mail about their exam, even when we send the mail several weeks in advance. This can happen even when the address the student provided was correct. Unfortunately, we don't have control over mail, but students can get the same information online at the Exam Portal. In the future, we'll be less inclined to accept "I didn't get the mail" as a reason for not appearing at exams. Your assistance in sharing information about the Exam Portal will help reduce instances where students must pay exam fees because they failed to appear at an exam.

If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know

Dennis
